LETTERS TO EDITOR

Gill Fritsche I am a
 Parma Redman,
 Class of 1965. We find ourselves amidst a current crusade to remove any name,
 nickname, symbol,
 monument or mascot
 found to be offensive to some party. Few symbols or mascots
 would not irritate
 someone's sensibilities. Parma High School adopted the name "Redman" in honor of a visiting Indian chief in 1936.I contend:1. Staff, students and supporters
 have never ridiculed,
 disparaged or de-
 meaned Native Americans. Every cheer,
 chant or artistic rendering has portrayed
 them with honor, dignity and respect.cont 7

PRESIDENT'S CORNER by Bruce Saban '87

Hello. I hope everyone had a great summer and are looking forward to fall as much as I am. My name is Bruce Saban and I am a proud Graduate of Parma Senior High from the class of 1988. It seems like yesterday I was walking the halls of PSH wearing a powder blue Bugle Boy shirt with black Cavaricci pants and it did not matter that nothing ever seemed to match. The pants had four interlocking belts that were very complicated to navigate, and my choice of shoes never made any sense at all. But it was the 1980s and that was the style. Well, at least it seemed like it was the style, although my friends and I never seemed to possess any appreciable fashion sense. But at least we were consistent in our poor wardrobe choices. However, there was one other thing that we were consistent with. This would be that we all cherished our time at PSH. We were eager to engage our futures. I was positive that my future would include Cont. pg3

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK Anthony DeMarco

__Welcome to volume 28 issue 3. During these past 28 years I have tried to be informative, reflective, and at times funny. So today I will try to deliver at least 2 of those.

First PSH is not closing, at least for the immediate future. We will continue to be a fully functional high school. I am usually at PSH 2 times a week to pick up the mail and to try to store and display the memorabilia we have and continue to collect. I have been in these halls as a student, art teacher, and Alumni member/officer for over 55 years. The building is spotless with it's terrazzo floors and freshly cleaned walls. The partially airconditioned building, at this time of the year, has it's hot zones and it's cool zones. The students, who will be fully masked now, seem to be functioning fairly well. Teachers are doing their best to function under the circumstances. I give them all a lot of credit considering what they are dealing with. I have seen a lot changes at Parma High since I started as a sophomore in 1959 to a teacher from 1967 to 1997 and an Alumni Cont pg 3

THE NEW PRINCIPAL OF PARMA SR. HIGH SCHOOL

The new Principal at Parma Senior High is Andrew "Andy" Suttell. He was a Middle school Principal before taking the Parma Senior High position. More to come in the next issue. Welcome Mr. Suttell.

IN MEMORIAM

Cont pg 1 Pres...to become a history teacher and I was also very hopeful that I would be able to teach history at my alma-mater. However, quite conversely, I never once imagined myself one day becoming President of the Alumni Association. And yet, here we are. I have been teaching at PSH for over 25 years and have just recently become the President of the Alumni Association. I believe these two endeavors are intertwined. One of the core components for my class is that the students I have will hopefully gain an appreciation for the people who have come before them. I want them to realize that the people they study were real and had incredible experiences throughout their lives. I also want them to understand that those experiences in the past are directly connected to modern day. Moreover, all the experiences of yesteryear continue to be connected to the "history" that has yet to be written. Of course, by this I mean our collective future. I bring this up because this is the vision I have for our alumni association. Our shared past will soon be interwoven with students who currently inhabit the building at 6285 West 54th street. Connecting the previous generations of Parma Senior to the existing culture and student population is more than a noble undertaking. It represents the bridge that can allow us to tie together the past, present and future of Parma Senior High. The current classes of Parma Senior are the lynchpin. I am often asked, "how are the student's at PSH today"? In short, they are awesome. I am confident their future accomplishments and achievements will add to the already great legacy of Parma Senior High. I am positive their unwritten futures will one day become part of our shared heritage. We will be proud to welcome them to our alumni family. In a few short years the current students at PSH will fulfill their destiny, they will become part of our 'Tradition'. I look forward to representing alumni of Parma Senior High moving into the future.

Cont pg 1 Editors Desk Board member from 1967 to the present. Over 55 years of change. From student population, building construction, teachers, curriculum, and so much more. The one constant has been PSH's ability to adapt to change.. I trust that will continue.

RYAN MADISON Athletic Director Parma Sr. High School

This year, the Great Lakes Conference has added 2 new schools...North Olmsted and Westlake to form a 12 school, 2 division format. The West division includes Bay, Elyria Catholic, Fairview, North Olmsted, Rocky River and Westlake and the East Division is Parma, Valley Forge, Normandy, Holy Name, Buckeye and Lakewood. At the end of each season, there will be a conference match-up game where the teams who finish with the same standing in the other division will play each other. The two first place division teams will play to crown an overall GLC champion or in some sports we will host a tournament to crown a conference champion. This format should make for some exciting games! As PSH Alumni Members, we ask for your much needed support. If you are able and interested in making a tax deductible donation to help support the Parma Redmen athletic department, please mail a donation to Parma Senior High School Athletic Department, 6285 West 54th Street, Parma, Ohio 44129. We appreciate any help you can provide to our student-athletes.

Carol Kneebusch Vaccariello Class of 1954 received her Homecoming Crown after 40 years.

In 1953 Kneebusch was to be crowned PSH's first Homecoming Queen when only 3 days before before school started she was struck down with polio. She never attended classes in the new building nor saw a game on the new Byers Field.

At City Hospital polio ward a handful of her friends crowned Carol Queen of the Class of 1954. her close friend, Claire Justice Eckles, stood in for her on the field at Homecoming in 1953.

This year (1993) a new field was installed and as part of the rededication ceremonies, Carol now 56, received her Crown 40 years after the that 1953 Homecoming.

Carol Kneebusch Vaccariello went on to graduate from Baldwin Wallace College, marry and have a child. She became a speech therapy teacher at Baldwin Wallace and supervised the speech clinic at BW. She became

2. Native American culture embodies spirituality, love of nature, family, teamwork, honor, bravery and respect for elders. Admirable qualities for students to emulate.

3. Honoring that culture keeps it alive, prominent and vibrant in the landscape of America. Erasing the image of Native Americans only serves to diminish the existence and relevance of that segment of the American population, past and present.

4. One can find something offensive about virtually every mascot. Should we rename the Valley Forge Patriots because people of British heritage might be offended by the American colonists committing treasonous acts against the King of England? Should we rename the Normandy Invaders because of the violence inherent in the term "Invader"? A bit of a stretch? Perhaps, but if we acquiesce to every perceived slight, where will it end? May the spirit that burns in the hearts of those who know what it means to be a Parma Redman shine brightly enough to allow the 85-year tradition and history to prevail. After all, "Once a Redman, Always a Redman." Gill Fritzsche, '65 Parma Former Principal

In the beginning of this school year the Alumni Association and I were informed that our third floor storage area was in need of repair and that included some welding.

This area is where your Alumni Assoc. stores 100 years of Parma High memorabilia. We put out a call for help in moving 100 memorabilia class reunion boxes. One for each Class. We also had racks of old cheerleading outfits, band uniforms, letter sweaters, jackets hundreds of old yearbooks, 16mm PSH football game films, and so much more.

Thanks to 18 PSH Football players and their head coaches, Matt Burns and Bruce Saban all that memorabilia was relocated in a little over 3 hours. We found room in the bell tower and the old projection room. Thanks again to the Football team and their coaches. We were lucky to have you. A DeMarco

This years PSH Alumni Golf outing took place at Ridgewood Golf Course in Parma on the last Friday in June. We had 72 golfers and 24 Hole Sponsors. Once again the committee of Brian Veverka '89 and Darlene Wendel DeMarco '63 (pictured here) did an outstanding job. Since we were unable to have the Golf outing in 2020, hole sponsors, past participants and new participants were anxious to make this outing a success and further our scholarship efforts.

This event is one of the most important scholarship fundraisers we have each year. With a good turnout, a large number of hole sponsors, 50/50 raffle, bssket raffle and donations we were able to raise $4000 for 2022 scholarships.

Thanks to all the volunteers who helped with the registration, refreshment carts, the raffle tables, selling tickets, and helping with set-up and take down. Thanks also to Dave Chuba, Ridgewood Golf Course Manager.
