PSHS ALUMNI TRADITION NEWSLETTER

PRESIDENTS CORNER by BRUCE SABAN '87

Spring usually represents renewal, rebirth, and a sense of a fresh start. However, in terms of the life span of Parma Senior High, it represents the end of an era. The Alumni Association (with the help of many gracious volunteers) has successfully transported most of our artifacts, memoirs, and class boxes to a safe storage facility. While moving desks, cabinets and yearbooks down multiple flights of steps was no easy task, it certainly fostered yet another opportunity to reminisce and share stories. Images of football games, musicals, or school dances from yesteryear prompted numerous personal stories. Moreover, it is certainly true that the fashion and style from bygone generations garnered a few chuckles, it also true that there was an admiration and respect for each decade. But something else quite unique, and, for lack of a better word, 'fun', also occurred. For every news article, piece of clothing, brick or wooden desk that was in our alumni office or storage room, Tony DeMarco knew the corresponding story. Tony is the link to the earliest days of the Alumni Association and our connection to people like Bob Brugge and Red Rees. Moreover, Tony is the bridge to most recent PSH graduates and their own experiences. Most of us have strong connections to Parma Senior and revere the bricks and tiles that make up the Queen of High Schools. But Tony exemplifies our collective stories and memories. Tony was entrusted to carry the torch from the earliest days of 1953. He has taken that charge with a commitment, passion and conviction that is unrivaled, and he has never let go.
